

Dear Highmark QUAD Participant,

Saturday, January 3, 2004. It is one day before a scheduled Highmark QUAD Ski Clinic which is never going to happen and it is seven days before the scheduled Ski Race which seems highly unlikely. It is 61 degrees. I go for a bike ride. I'm happy but only in a relative sense. I mean, I like riding my bike but not so much today. It appears that this is going to be one of THOSE winters.

Sunday, January 11, 2004. It is five minutes before a race that is very definitely going to happen. As the great philosopher Homer (Simpson) is prone to say, "Woo Hoo!"

And here is an interesting bit of Highmark QUAD Trivia that you can use at parties to amaze your friends. In answer to the question (which I hear frequently) "Is this the first time the ski race has gone off on the day it was scheduled?" The answer is an emphatic 'no'. In fact, in the last seven years, the Highmark QUAD Ski Race has gone off on the day it was scheduled five times. Do you hear me? Five Times! Five out of seven is pretty good.

However...

Those two years that weren't on the mark are seemingly what reputations are made of.

The 1999 race was postponed for seven straight weeks, finally taking place as the latest Ski Race ever on March 14. My wife says I was a bit cranky during that period.

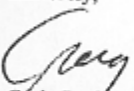

The other was the complete nonevent of 2002. Eagerly anticipating that year's Ski Race as the 20th anniversary of the Highmark QUAD Games, the race was postponed repeatedly until it was finally rescheduled for the following year. Five out of seven is good but when we miss, we miss big.

However... when it's good, it's soooooo good.

My congratulations to all, especially a group of tough kids and first time skiers that hung in as the temperature slowly went down and the wind picked up. It was a gritty finish by some young and young at heart citizen athletes.

Finally, the addition of snowshoes to our winter festival was a tremendous buzz. I figured 4 or 5 people might try it. Instead 45 did and as they poured across the finish line all smiles and highs, there was no doubt in my mind that this event is a keeper. My thanks to Pete Sitter for this wonderful concept as well as his continued friendship and support.

Sincerely,

Craig Latimer
Coordinator
