For quality

We provide more than access to quality healthcare. We offer lifestyle improvement programs and 24/7 support from a registered nurse through Blues on Call.SM We provide information to help evaluate options with your doctor, and operate the Highmark Caring Place for grieving children and their families. Because at Highmark, we believe quality of life is the whole point of healthcare.

Dear Highmark QUAD Participant,

As I watched the Highmark QUAD Swim jump-start season twenty-four of the Games, I found myself thinking about last year and next. I was still sort of post-shell shock from last year's swim which was interrupted by an April 3 blizzard. As I drove to McComb Fieldhouse on the beautiful spring morning that was April 9, 2006, I really did have to ask myself if the snowstorm that forced that event to be held in two installments last year was just my imagination. It was without doubt a very bizarre turn of events that will be part of QUAD Games lore for years to come.

And then because sometimes you just can't worry enough, I found myself thinking about season twenty-five which will include the part where I have to, uh rather, I GET to swim. Geez, that seems like a pretty nerve-wracking experience. Having done the QUAD Games in 1992 and again in 2002, this 25th anniversary thing seems to be speeding towards me like the Anxiety Express.

But enough whining. Fortunately there was as there always is, lots of things going on that made QUAD Swim XXIV plenty special on its own. Watching long time participants continue to come back for the annual fitness yardstick that the QUAD is; watching families participate for the first time; seeing grade school kids bravely mount the starting blocks while Mom or Dad either watch or line up in the next lane; observing what seems to be an optical illusion: the extraordinary feat of people swimming 100 yards in less than 50 seconds! There is good, there is very good and then there is Wow!

That "wow-factor" actually shows up in nearly every heat, far beyond just the blistering fast ones. I think of this when I watch what it is that you do: Hundreds of people annually come up with thousands of excuses to avoid the very challenge you met successfully on April 9. And as far as exactly the determination and effort you showed . . . Well, I'll find that out for myself soon enough.

Congratulations and good health in the season ahead.

Sincerely,
